President's Message

My dear brothers and sisters, I cannot believe that 2009 is almost over. How is it possible that the year has passed so quickly? As time continues at this incredible pace, I must remind myself that although I cannot control time, and managing it, only offers the illusion of power over it, I can and should appreciate the time offered to me. How often do we hear that we need to slow down and smell the roses, count our blessings, or take stock of what is truly important in our lives? We usually respond in agreement and promise ourselves that we will do just that, as soon as we can catch up with everything and everyone.

More often than not it takes some significant event or tragedy to stop us in our tracks and shock us into the realization that we will never catch up, never get to a break even point. It is then that we come to the stark conclusion that life as we know it will only get better, if we truly recognize how insignificant the things that we chase are and how incredibly significant our short precious time on earth is.

All of us can look back at this past year and see the peaks and valleys that shape who we are. We have said goodbye to loved ones and experienced pain that tears so deep into our hearts that we were not sure we could take another breath. However, that next breath did come. It came in the support and companionship of many that would not leave our side until we could walk on our own once again. It came in the faith and hope we can only find in the hands of God as He surrounded us with the grace we needed to assure us that we don't say goodbye but instead say, "see you later."

We also experienced many miracles such as the birth of new life. We felt the touch of God in the little hands that reached up to touch our face. Rekindled friendships brought joy, mended relationships, repaired cracks in our hearts. All these experiences and many more are the stuff of life that makes it all worth living.

In the Gospels, Jesus often said that the kingdom of God is at hand. Did He mean that it was some place off in the distance and that we would be there soon? Or was He trying to tell us that we did not have to wait, that we could experience a preview of the glory that is to come here and now.

I am convinced that as we grow in grace through the Sacraments, especially the Eucharist, through a conscious, active and apostolic faith that He in His generous abundant love for us reveals what will be in what is. Our lives, with the ups and downs, triumphs and tragedies are where we forge ourselves for the journey that ultimately leads us, together to the greatest of all glories.

May we all strive through our Piety, Study and Action to grow in grace so that through our lives we become the leaven, the light our world so desperately needs. When we do, we get a glimpse of heaven that inspires change. The Kingdom of God is at Hand! Let us rejoice and be glad.

Ideas to Make Your Christmas Special

Do you have a great family Christmas Advent Tradition?

Last year, I received as a gift a special book on Christmas traditions starting with Advent. During Advent we light the candle and read the prayer for that week. I also asked my 'young adult' children to prepare thanks for something they received that week. Let's start here. The Christmas Advent Season always conjures up thoughts, feelings, and memories. Would you like to make the entire season more memorable, and more positive for your children or grandchildren? Thoughtfully establish a tradition!

Traditions can be wonderful "anchors" in a life of flux and uncertainty. Our best traditions remind us of our place and purpose in this world. And the good news is that you can establish your own tradition, and perhaps see it carried on for generations to come. And, it doesn't have to be expensive.

Traditions centered around activities: Some families establish a tradition around the activities of the season. Shopping for the tree, decorating the tree as a family, going caroling, having a special Christmas dinner, and going to Christmas Mass.

Traditions centered around the Message of Advent: Some families have established a tradition around the Message of the Advent, gather the entire family on Christmas eve, and read the story of Christmas from the gospel accounts, let the youngest participant put the story in their own words, which by the way is always good for some humor, offer a prayer of thanksgiving, and then open one present each while Christmas music plays in the background. Even those family members away can take a few minutes out on Christmas Eve to celebrate the wonder of the message of Christmas either with new friends or their own new family or sometimes joining in by phone to share in the tradition.

A Tradition centered around reaching out: We are aware of families that invite a person from their Parish or from a neighborhood nursing home to their home for Christmas dinner. Others choose to serve food in a local shelter for those with no home and no family. Still others deliver toys to homes where Christmas presents are an unlikely event.

The strength of establishing a tradition lies within the ability of the tradition to make the participants cease their normal activities, and focus on the deeper meanings within a holiday over cluttered with the frivolous and commercial. To be sure: We can enjoy the latter, and should. It just grounds us in truth to find our individual and collective methods of celebrating the incredible gift of the Christ Child.

The Meaning of the Candy Cane

Many years ago a candy maker wanted to make a candy that would symbolize the true meaning of Christmas: Jesus.

The hard candy was shaped like a "J" to represent that Jesus is our rock of all ages. The candy was made of white to stand for His pureness. The red represents the blood that Jesus shed to save us from our sins. The candy maker created the candy cane to remind us during this season that Christmas is a sweet gift of love, and that Jesus is the reason.

May you find God's sweet love at the heart of your Christmas!

The Journey

My Fourth day Journey

My Dear Cursillistas,

My name is Flower Nguyen. I heard of the Cursillo Movement many, many years ago; however, only in God's time, I made my weekend (# 680) at De Sales in November 2006.

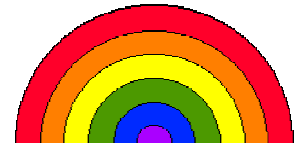

Before living the Cursillo weekend I was a faithful Catholic but I entirely practiced my Faith all alone; I considered my religious life as my privacy, and I kept all my worship activities to myself. I profoundly believed that these matters were strictly between My Lord and me. I did not sense the obligation to share these sensational feelings with anyone at all.

After my weekend I have learned that, as a Christian, I am called to do more than just love Christ introspectively. I am called to find and love the Christ in others, even when they do not see it themselves. I am called to set them and myself inclusive on fire through evangelization each day of my life. I know that each of us has different gifts, yet we are all called to the unity as members of God's family.

The most significant adjustment in my religious life since the Cursillo weekend has been the awareness of the whole community's support as we practice the tripod method of Piety, Study and Action. We all share our life in grace through grouping and discuss the magnificent love that God bestows upon us. My favorite time during grouping is hearing the close encounter of Christ moments. Just by this experience alone I am overwhelmed with His immense love for us. I see God who is everywhere and is in everyone. I have achieved this phenomenon throughout Grouping, Ultreya, and especially working on the team during the weekends and I cherish it tremendously.

God has always extended His abundant love to us. What have we done to deserve it and how can we show our gratitude? I humbly pray our merciful Jesus to bless us and reveal Himself to us in all His splendors throughout our fourth day journey and into our fifth day in heaven.

De Colores,
Flower Nguyen

Christ counts on you!

A COUPLE'S FOURTH DAY JOURNEY

Our Journey

We, David and Rosemarie Gonzales are active parishioners at St. Mary's Parish in Los Angeles. We have been married for almost 24 years and have three adult children, Shanel 22, Branden 19, and Eric 17.

I (Rosemarie), seeking to revive my relationship with the Lord, answered the call to attend Cursillo first and lived my weekend in November 2000 through the Los Angeles Cursillo. David decided he couldn't wait to attend the next Los Angeles Cursillo and lived his Cursillo weekend in January of 2001 through the Orange County Archdiocese.

We both have been active members of the Church since our teenage years. We were members of the All Saints Youth Group in Los Angeles through high school. The last two years of participation we moved into the roles of leaders, Lectors, Eucharistic Ministers, planning and running meetings, working retreats, planning revivals, carnivals, etc.

To date, we continue to lead with scheduling and participating as Lectors and Eucharist Ministers at St. Mary's Parish. David sits on the St. Mary's School Board and I (Rosemarie) am a member of the Rollo Room Committee and attempt to work a Cursillo Team/Weekend at least once a year. Additionally, we attend Leaders' School and it has proven a benefit, enhancing our knowledge of the Cursillo movement. We both believe that Cursillo has been instrumental in strengthening our relationship with God and for the love of community to go out in our daily lives to bring about God's Kingdom.

As a married couple, we have continued our spiritual journey and on a daily basis lift each day to the Lord. But, as with many of you, our lives have not been without struggles and hardship. This past August (2009), after a series of medical events, I (Rosemarie) was hospitalized. It was one of those life-changing events that some might consider a test of faith. It took several days for the information from the doctors to be received. The final diagnosis was a brain bleed as a result of CNS Vasculities. In September (2009), a new team of doctors was obtained at USC and though a few medical questions are still unanswered, for now, we have a new found hope. The catalyst in bringing about this hope was the many prayers and palanca from family, friends, and fellow Cursillistas that we are both forever grateful.

Our faith in the Ultimate Physician; our God, has brought our children and us through the dark nights to his everlasting hope. With God on our side, all things are possible!

DeColores,
David and Rosemarie Gonzales

Tid Bits

Know ‘the Parent Warning codes’

Text messaging is an increasingly integral part of the way young people communicate with their friends. But like other forms of communication, it can expose children to outside threats and unwanted contacts, even from sexual predators.

That’s why it is important for parents to monitor their child’s use of text messaging. Young people are aware of their parents’ supervision and have developed text codes in response. These parent-warning codes are codes that kids use to let whomever they are talking to know that it is not safe to talk. If you see these codes, you should instantly be suspicious. For example “MOS” means “Mom over shoulder,” and “PIR” means, “Parent in room.” A helpful tutorial for parents is located at www.mahalo.com Type: “How to understand your kids’ text messages” in the search box.

Cursillos in Christianity

Cursillo (pronounced kur-see-yo) is a Spanish word meaning "short course". It begins on a Thursday evening and ends Sunday evening. During those three days the Cursillistas (those attending the weekend) live and work together, listening to talks given by priests and laypeople. They also attend Mass, receive Communion and visit the Blessed Sacrament daily.

The priest, who is the "spiritual director" and the laity who make up the Cursillo "team" spend weeks working and praying together in preparation for the weekend. The Cursillo takes careful planning because the time is short and the subject extensive. The titles of the talks indicate their content: Ideal, Sanctifying Grace, Laypeople in the Church, Actual Grace, Piety, Study, The Sacraments, Action, Obstacles to Grace, Leaders, Study of the Environment, Life in Grace, Community in Action and Perseverance.

Not A Retreat

A Cursillo can be made only once in a lifetime, therefore it is not a substitute for a retreat. Actually the Cursillo makes succeeding retreats more profitable and Cursillistas are encouraged to make regular retreats. The basic atmosphere of a Cursillo differs greatly from the individual solitude of a retreat. The Cursillo weekend is not silent. The teachings of Christ are experienced and shared in a climate of joy and a spirit of community. During the talks the Cursillistas take notes and each talk is followed by a discussion period within a small group.

Instrument of Renewal

The Cursillo is a powerful instrument of renewal in the Church. Its aim is to concentrate closely on the Person and teachings of Jesus Christ. The Cursillo gives those who attend a living understanding of basic Christian truths and a desire to serve the Church. What's more it provides a means to continue the Christian formation which is just begun in the three-day weekend.

The Fourth Day

The "after" activity of the Cursillo is known as the "fourth day", that is the balance of the Cursillista's life on earth. During this time perseverance is important just as in any method of renewal. In the Cursillo Movement the community spirit is continued after the three days through the "ultreyas" or reunions of the community. These are available as a means of growth in understanding and zeal within the Christian community. Smaller groups of friends also come together regularly to encourage and support one another in spiritual growth and the Christian apostolate.

History of Cursillo

The movement began in 1944 on the island of Majorca, birthplace of Father Junipero Serra. Under leadership of a Spanish layman, Eduardo Bonnin, a group of some 30 priests and laymen met to organize some means of countering immorality and indifference to religion. The Bishop of Majorca, Juan Hervas, suggested the program that was finally developed carefully into the Cursillo. The first Cursillo took place in the United States in 1957. It was originated by two Spanish Air Force pilots who were training with the U.S. Air Force in Texas.

The Church and Cursillo

The Cursillo movement was given Church approval in December 1963. On that occasion, Pope Paul VI said in part: "This method of Christian teaching commonly called Cursillos in Christianity extends already over a great number of the faithful and it has produced abundant fruit: Christian renewal of family life...and the vitalization of parishes."

In March of 1971, after making his Cursillo weekend, then Archbishop Timothy Manning was quoted in the Tidings as saying, "From my experience I must say this has my 100% plus...not only approval but enthusiasm."

Christianizing Environments

The Cursillo is an encounter with Christ. Correctly applied and overseen the Cursillo Movement can have very positive results in the spiritual revitalization of the world. The Christ-likeness in a few people is contagious. The transference of Christ's values to others in one's family, school, place of business, etc., is the Christianizing of environments the Cursillo promotes. The goal of the movement is that Christ be the prime influence in society. So it is said the PRIMARY OBJECTIVES of the Cursillo Movement are to develop in adult Christians a consciousness of their ability and mission to become leaders in the work of Christian renewal, and to sustain them as they provide a Christian leaven in civic, social and economic life. This "Christianizing of environments" is what the Cursillo movement is about.
